THREE ROUGHS KNOCK DOWN, KICK AND JEER OFFICER FEES.

When He Tried to Arrest Them for Disorderly Conduct, They Turned on Him—Three Times His Pistol Missed Fire and They Got Him Under—He Seized One Tough, but the Others Rescued Him.

Patrolman Jacob W. Fees, of the West Thirty-seventh street squad, is lying in bed suffering from the effects of a brutal assault committed by three young toughs on the corner of Ninth avenue and Thirty-fifth street early this morning.

Officer Fees was in citizen's clothes and doing special duty. About 1:30 o'clock the three toughs came through West Thirty-fifth street from the direction of Tenth avenue. They were singing boisterously and cursing each other loudly. The officer approached them and said:

"This is a nice time to be singing in the street. Do you want to wake all the neighborhood?"

"Well, it is my business," said Fees, showing his shield, "and if you don't stop I'll lock you up."

Snatching the action to the word, he moved towards them. They waited for him and then like a flash the taller of the three sent out his left and Fees fell backwards.

Before he had time to rise the toughs fell upon him. They kicked him in the face and about the body until he lay still, and then desisted.

Suddenly Fees sprang to his feet and drew his revolver. A Smith & Wesson .38-caliber. He snapped the trigger, but the weapon missed fire. Again he tried to shoot and again the trigger fell harmlessly.

Then, using the revolver as a club, he rushed upon them. Grabbing one of the men, he held the others at bay with the weapon and started down Thirty-fifth street, intending to take the man to the station in the Thirty-seventh street by way of Tenth avenue.

He had gone a hundred yards with his prisoner when the latter's friend rushed upon him. Again he snapped the revolver, but it didn't go off.

The toughs got him down and were repeating their kicking tactics when the arrival of a citizen, one Charles McCoy, scared them off. They ran into an alleyway alongside of the Thirty-fifth Street Methodist Episcopal Church.

Dazed and blinded by blood the plucky officer followed. The alley door was slammed and bolted in his face. Fees then asked McCoy, who had followed, to go to the station for help. He refused, but promised to watch while the officer went around.

The latter returned with Officers Gray and Walsh, and although a thorough search was made the men were not found. Access to a dozen houses could be had from the alley, and the ruffians probably escaped into Tenth avenue.

Fees was sent home, and he lies in bed, with one eye closed and frightfully bruised. His head is covered with cuts and bruises and his body the same way. Surgeon Grinnell, of the station-house, is attending him.

Fees describes the men as being about 20 years of age, of medium height, and were short and stout, he said, and the other was tall and wore red whiskers. The ward detectives are looking for them.

We do not wait to offer Bargains when our customers have completed their Holiday Shopping.

MISSING TICKET AGENT HARRIS.
Railroad Officials Examining the Books to Find Out the Shortage.

The search for Edgar J. Harris, the ticket agent of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad at the Grand Central Depot, who is believed to have skipped away with money belonging to the Company, is still unproductive.

Assistant Comptroller Tomlinson has made an examination of the ticket office, and left the city for New Haven this morning to report to Comptroller Keller.

Early Morning Fire at Westery.
[Special to the Evening World.]
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 20.—Howe & Carr's drug store at Westery was gutted by fire early this morning. Their stock was valued at $5,000. Mrs. Sisson, who kept a millinery store on the second floor, had her stock badly damaged by smoke. W. P. Warren's news store on the ground floor sustained damage amounting to $1,400.

Mrs. Preble Gets a Verdict for $36,772.88.
[Special to the Evening World.]
BOSTON, Dec. 20.—The jury in the famous case of Mrs. Preble against Bates and Walley, brokers, to recover $50,000, which her son lost in speculation through the medium of that firm, returned a verdict this morning for Mrs. Preble in the sum of $36,772.88.

A Noted American Yachtsman.
[Chicago News, New York Letter.]
A man of medium height wandered along with Herman Olrichs. He was Gen. Paine. He unquestionably ranks to-day as the best yachtsman of the country. Unfortunately he is not a New Yorker. He begins to figure prominently in the papers as the summer season approaches, for he is the man who has had the nerve and skill to build the crack yachts to defend the America Cup, and a new race is in view. He has an easy smile, keen eyes, bronzed skin and a long mustache. The Mayflower was his first triumph. Just now attention is being called to him because the Thistle is laid up under cover in Scotland, with all her shrewd Scotch owners around her, undergoing repairs for another struggle for the cup. It is said that she is having a centre-board put in, and if she does she will prove a serious rival for the Volunteer. A new racer will have to be built, and the eyes of Americans are turned towards Gen. Paine. There is a general and firm conviction that he will be found there when wanted. The General's companion, Herman Olrichs, is more of an athlete than he looks. He is a man of power, full build, but he has increased in weight of late years, and people look at him more as a comfortable banker than an athlete. Yet he is one of the most prominent men identified with field sports. They thought of running him for Mayor here at one time, so he could pull such an enormous vote among the Germans, and he was a National Comptroller during the late election on the Democratic side of the house.

Skipped with His Mother's Money.
The parents of Samuel Newmark, sixteen years old, reported at Police Headquarters to-day that he ran away from his home at 132 East Broadway yesterday with $31 of his mother's money. A general alarm was sent out.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria, When she was a child, she cried for Castoria, When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria, When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Northwesterly blizzards now are rapidly coming. Wellman's Patent Window Protectors go a humming. They are made of rubber and are light and strong. They are easy to open, and each and all do so. They are easy to open, and each and all do so. They are easy to open, and each and all do so.

Mexico's New President.
[From the Washington Post.]
The Mexican President, Gen. Porfirio Diaz, whose re-election to the Presidency was inaugurated with much pomp and rejoicing on Saturday, will be well remembered by many who met him in Washington during his visit to this country five years ago, upon which occasion his handsome and attractive wife quite took the hearts of the people by storm. Mrs. Diaz is considered the most beautiful woman in the Republic, and her fluent speaking of the English tongue enables her to enter with ease and pleasure into the social circles of the capital. Both she and her husband are adored by their fellow-countrymen, whose enthusiasm at his re-election demonstrated itself in every conceivable way. President Diaz is a man of widely enlarged views, and his liberal rule and generous concessions in regard to railroads throughout the country have materially added to the prosperity and wealth of the people. The inaugural festivities will close with another grand ball on Monday evening, which will rival in brilliancy all its predecessors.

Death of Clerk O'Meara.
Timothy O'Meara, Chief Clerk of the Liquidation Department in the Naval Office for the past fifteen years, died on Tuesday. He served during the war and lost an arm in the Union's cause.

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden S-celle.
It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it. It is absolutely harmless and will effect a permanent cure. It is a temperate man who has taken Golden S-celle in their cups without their knowledge, and have been made quit drinking of their own free will. IT NEVER FAILS. The system once impregnated with the S-celle, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. For sale by ALEX. HUNTER, Herald Building, 100 N. W. 4th St., BOSTON, and by THE LONGACRE PHARMACY, Broadway and 43d St., New York, and by BOLTON DRUG CO., 204 Fulton St., Brooklyn.
